

AOYAMA DINING TABLE

BY GUBI

Aoyama, a neighborhood in Tokyo known for its fashion houses, restaurants and shopping and is where the Danish-French designer Paul Leroy found inspiration for his Aoyama Table series. The nearly transparent base column in laser-cut steel plate, giving the table it's visual lightness and characteristic traits, supports the round table top of either a dining table or lounge table in a range of sizes. The Aoyama Table is a simple, functional, multi-purpose design that can be used alone or in conjunction with additional tables.

Dimensions

aoyama dining table 120: 28.7" h | top: 47.2" dia. | base: 18.1" dia.

aoyama dining table 130: 28.7" h | top: 51.2" dia. | base: 23.2" dia.

aoyama dining table 150: 28.7" h | top: 59" dia. | base: 23.2" dia.

Material Options

Aoyama comes in a lounge, dining, bar and rectangular table options in various sizes. The table top comes in laminate, black stained ash or soft-coated black. The chamfered edge and bottom of the table top is painted with the same finish as the table top. The table column is available in black, white or chromed laser cut steel plate.